Decorative flooring with Marmoleum

Marmoleum, the world-leading linoleum collection, can be found in schools, hospitals, offices, retail outlets and other public buildings around the world. Marmoleum is often chosen due to its natural beauty and outstanding performance. Amongst others, Marmoleum offers excellent durability, being resistant to heavy loads and castor indentation, as well as resistance to cigarette burns. Due to its natural make up, Marmoleum possesses inherent bacteriostatic properties making it the ideal flooring solution for a healthy environment.

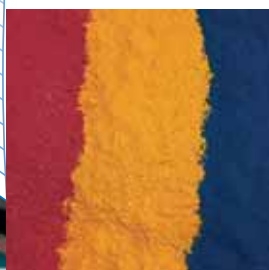

A Marmoleum floor is not only a functional floor. Marmoleum opens up the possibility of using the floor as integral part of the overall colour and design process of any interior. The extensive colour palette and design options provide endless possibilities, with the only limit being your imagination. Use tiles from the Marmoleum Dual collection to create very strong or very sophisticated colour effect. Use welding rods to create a unique pattern. Or be inspired by this brochure and choose a design from the Aquajet collection to create the desired effect.

Aquajet

Aquajet cutting technology enables reproduction of the most intricate designs and allows for endless creativity. A fine computer-controlled jet of water at very high pressure is used to cut through the material.

Whether it is a thematic floor, a work of art, a company logo, the possibilities are limitless.

The most natural of materials

Life-cycle analysis shows that, ecologically, Marmoleum is the preferred floor covering. Manufactured from linseed oil, rosin, wood flour, limestone, pigments and jute, it is fully bio-degradable. The main ingredient – linseed oil – is extracted from the seeds of the flax plant and mixed with pine rosin. Then wood flour derived from timber grown in renewable forests is used to give body to the product and to enhance the beautiful colours created with ecologically responsible pigments. Thanks to its fine structure, limestone is a valuable ingredient of virtually all smooth floor coverings, including Marmoleum. For the backing we use jute, once again only the most natural of materials.

World wide references

The unique Marmoleum designs produced with the Aquajet technique have been applied in numerous applications all over the world. These references show how the combination of the Marmoleum colours and the Aquajet technique can provide unique design possibilities.

Creative with tiles

With the Mosaic and Gingham tiles it is possible to create a distinct wall to wall flooring design. The tiles can also be applied as loose inset or in combination with other tiles from the Marmoleum Dual collection. The Mosaic and Gingham are available in colours from the Dual range.

Decoration on location

Many flooring designs can easily be cut and installed on location. A simple component like a strip can be applied to create a design.

Welding rods can be used functionally for hygienic reasons but also can be used to create stylish effects.

World of children

Children bring us joy and hope. Creating the right environment for them is no easy matter. Whether it is bright colour for stimulation or soft pastels for tranquillity, Marmoleum can be used to enhance the mood.

Reflections of nature

Abstracted forms from nature create a calm and welcoming atmosphere in any institutional environment. Marmoleum flooring combines a natural look with colour and high design capability.

Timeless

Designs which create a feeling of security and trust. The timeless feeling of Marmoleum creates elements which are equally at home in a variety of surroundings, from a baroque hotel to a traditional office building.

Geometrical visions

Balanced designs which are easy to apply in different atmospheres. These show that Marmoleum gives highly diverse colour and design possibilities.
